Laotian Rebel Forces Advance Threaten Two Key Government Posts

THA THOM, Laos (AP)—Pro-Communist rebels bore down on two key government positions in south central Laos today, and the outnumbered defenders prepared to take to the jungle for guerrilla operations.

"The Reds are coming—there is no question about it," said Maj. Phong Kave, commander of the undersized battalion at Tha Thom. "We are reverting back to guerrilla warfare," said Col. Kham Khong at Paksane.

Swarming through the jungles two rebel columns struck out across the narrow waist of this tiny Buddhist kingdom.

The double-barrelled attack scattered government forces massing at Paksane, 90 miles northeast of Vientiane, and this forward outpost 40 miles to the north. The rebel advance spelled doom, at least for the present, to government plans to mount an attack from Paksane and Tha Thom on the rebel-held Plaine des Jarres and Kiang Khouang Province to the north and northeast.

Col. Khan, who was to have led the offensive from Paksane, said his defense forces for the entire area totaled two battalions, half of them in Tha Thom and the other half scattered through the mountains. He had only 70 men in Paksane itself Tuesday.

On the western front government forces were meeting with more success.

The capture of Vang Vieng, on the road to Luang Prabang, the royal seat 140 miles north of Vientiane, cleared the way for a flanking movement against the Plaine des Jarres.

Rebel commander Kong Le offered only token resistance in Vang Vieng. His forces pulled back to guard the plateau, which is the rebel's important air and communications area.

Bank President's Daughter He'd for Stealing $2 Million

SHELDON, Iowa (AP)—The economy of this small town in northwest Iowa was in a state of confusion today as the result of a $2-million embezzlement from the Sheldon National Bank.

There were payrolls to be met, outstanding checks that seemed sure to encounter trouble, citizens without funds and local business records in financial disarray.

In jail, beyond the reach of persons seeking public answers to the questions of how and why it all happened, was Burnice Geiger, 58, daughter of the bank president.

The U.S. district attorney's office in Sioux City said Mrs. Geiger—a director and assistant cashier of the bank—admitted the embezzlement. A prominent citizen, she was known for her charitable works.

Her father, W. P. Iverson, 63, president of the bank for 45 years, could only say: "I'm all choked up."

The bank was closed for liquidation by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. after a routine audit by federal bank examiners turned up the shortage Monday night.

Officials of the FDIC were checking the records of deposits which were insured up to $10,000 each. The bank's last statement on Dec. 31 listed total assets at $1,995,000. The embezzlements were estimated at $2,126,859.

Nikita Hits West's Position

East German Pact Threat Is Renewed

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev has hurled a new threat to sign a separate peace treaty with the East German Communist regime in a move to end Western occupation of West Berlin.

The Soviet premier says the Big Three powers' position in West Berlin is "especially vulnerable."

Khrushchev's fresh threat was made in a speech delivered to party leaders in Moscow Jan. 6 and published in the current issue of the magazine Kommunist.

His speech constituted an interpretation of the declaration adopted at the Communist party summit conference in Moscow last fall.

The lawmakers who refused only seven weeks ago to approve an emergency extension of unemployment benefits asked by Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle started consideration of three bills to do practically the same thing.

Among Major Measures

A bill to exempt all food, including restaurant meals, from Ohio's 3 per cent sales tax. At present, only food sold for consumption off the premises where the sale is made is exempt. The proposal, which also embraces prescription medicines and artificial limbs and eyes, was made by Rep. Fred L. Hoffman, R-Hamilton, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

A proposed constitutional amendment, also sponsored by Hoffman, to make the Ohio Supreme Court the final authority to determine whether either elected or appointed state officials are physically or mentally disabled to the point where they should not hold office. Such questions of disability could be raised against such officials by the governor, the secretary of state or the attorney general.

The third in a series of proposed constitutional amendments all providing for annual, rather than biennial, sessions of the legislature.

A production victory over the United States, he said, will be a factor in bringing about the triumph of world communism.

Khrushchev held firmly to previous Soviet policy toward West Berlin and once again denounced what he called "renascent West German militarism."

"The position of the U. S. A., Britain and France has proved to be especially vulnerable in West Berlin," he said. "These powers

Postal Officials Mum on Building In East Liverpool

WASHINGTON (AP)—Post Office Department officials say East Liverpool, Ohio, is only one of many cities under consideration for a new post office.

But when that city gets one—if ever—is something that won't be known, a Post Office spokesman said, until an announcement is made that a site for the building has been picked.

The reason for all the secrecy is that, once it becomes known that a new building is going to go up, some local interests scramble to buy property and push up the price.

"After all," the spokesman said, "there are only so many places in a city like that where you could build a post office building."

If and when a building is put up in East Liverpool, he said, it will be erected by a private contractor and leased to the government.

The only government money involved would be in obtaining the necessary equipment for the building and, in some cases, buying the lot.

"If the lot is too high, we won't go into a city, either," the spokesman said.

Ohio House Group Ponders Jobless Bills

Three Measures Approach Problem In Different Ways

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio House Industry and Labor Committee got its feet wet on the state's unemployment problem Tuesday night as other bills continued to roll into the Republican-controlled legislature.

The lawmakers who refused only seven weeks ago to approve an emergency extension of unemployment benefits asked by Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle started consideration of three bills to do practically the same thing.

Solicitor Says Income Tax Is Secure

Creation of Municipal Court Under Council Consideration

Solicitor Scott McCorkhill at City Council's meeting Tuesday night recommended that the law-makers consider the feasibility of establishing a municipal court in Salem.

He declared creation of a municipal court here would return much revenue which the city lost after institution of the county court system in Ohio.

Under the latter system, state highway patrol cases, formerly heard by mayors of municipalities, are taken to county courts, with the fines and court costs going to the state.

McCorkhill said if a municipal court were established, many of the patrol cases would probably be brought here. He cited the example of the East Liverpool Municipal Court which has been hearing patrol cases.

The municipal court would also serve as a small claims court, he said.

Gives Opinion on Income Tax

The city solicitor also declared he did not think the city income tax, passed last year, is subject to repeal by referendum because it was enacted as an emergency measure.

He said that in view of experiences of other Ohio cities in enacting and maintaining income taxes, he felt Salem's tax was secure from efforts to abolish it through a referendum.

Following his report, McCorkhill was commended by Council President Michael Schuller and other councilmen on the efficient manner in which he is conducting his duties as solicitor.

Mayor Dean Cranmer told councilmen a ramp to the municipal parking lot at the intersection of S. Ellsworth Ave. and Pershing St. will be constructed this week, weather permitting.

Parking Lot Job Set

He added that excavation on the Penn Ave.-Pershing St. municipal lot also will be started this week.

The mayor said he had contacted officials of the Lakes Division, Pennsylvania Railroad in regard to the excessive lengths of time trains were blocking crossings in the city and had been assured that crews on trains operating through Salem will be instructed to uncou-

Meeting on Post Office Site Re-Zoning Is Set

Salem City Council has scheduled a special meeting for next Tuesday night to discuss procedure necessary to start the rezoning of the Columbia St.-Penn Ave. area, the proposed site of a new Salem post office.

Councilmen last night agreed to the meeting following the request of F. S. Barkhoff Jr., city zoning officer, relayed through City Solicitor Scott McCorkhill, that councilmen act on the matter.

Councilmen were in accord that the city should take some steps to declare their intent to cooperate with the United States Post Office Department which has secured options on five properties in the area.

The area is now defined as an R2 zone (residential) and must be changed to B1 (business) to permit construction of the post office.

The optioned properties will provide 160 feet frontage on Penn Ave. and 235 feet on Columbia St.

The site will adjoin the city's proposed municipal parking lot at the intersection of Penn Ave. and E. Pershing St.

The Post Office Department announced several months ago that it was planning to abandon the present downtown building at the corner of E. State and Lincoln Ave. because it is inadequate and it lacks sufficient land to accommodate the ever-increasing traffic to and from the post office.

Roy E. Ronke, Post Office Department real estate officer from Cleveland, who surveyed sites here for the new post office, said the proposed new structure will be a modern one-story building of approximately 11,000 square feet of floor space, with a large loading dock and 15,000 square feet of blacktop parking lot.

Cherry Hill Makes Request

Also to be discussed next Tuesday, with representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and Salem Area Industrial Development Corp. attending, will be the request of the Cherry Hill Rocker Division of the Franklin Furniture Co. of Columbiana for improvement of Elm St., leading to the Salem plant, and in water service.

Arctic Air Ends Spell Of Mild Weather

By The Associated Press
Arctic air spread into the north central region today, ending a spell of mild winter weather.

Temperatures dropped below zero in northern Minnesota and were near zero in the teens from the eastern Dakotas northeastward through the upper Great Lakes region. They were in the 20s and 30s in the Rockies.

The cold air was expected to extend from the northern and central Rockies eastward through most of the northern and central Atlantic coastal states.

Readings were in the 30s and lower in most areas from the Rockies eastward through the western Dakotas and southeastward over the middle Mississippi Valley as far south as central sections of the Gulf states and north-eastward into New England.

Forty-degree temperatures were reported from the southeast New York along the Atlantic seaboard into central Florida and along the Gulf of Texas. The 50s and 60s prevailed in southern Florida, southern Texas and in the far southwest. Southern California again reported readings in the 80s yesterday.

'60 Building Here Totals $862,050

City Council Clerk Charles Alexander Tuesday night read a report to Council from F. S. Barkhoff Jr., city zoning officer, which stated that building permits were issued in 1960 for property construction and alterations totaling $862,050 in valuation.

The report, which Council President Michael Schuller said graphically disputed any notions that Salem is a "dead town," revealed that a total of 251 construction permits were issued last year.

A breakdown shows the valuation of new residences constructed amounted to $380,400; remodeling, $34,950; repairs and alterations, $102,796 and garages, $31,965.

Total valuation of new business establishments, repairs and alterations amounted to $311,939.

Building permit fees totaled $1,074.

President Cites Years of Peace

Holds Final Official News Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he considers the greatest achievement of his eight years in office was the preservation of peace in an era when weakness would almost certainly have brought disastrous war.

Eisenhower gave this appraisal in his last presidential news conference, attended by 260 reporters who crowded into the ornate Indian Treaty Room of the old State Department Building.

The 70-year-old soldier-president dealt quickly, smilingly and emphatically with questions concerned with foreign and domestic problems. He spoke most feelingly when asked what he considered his most satisfying achievement and most heartbreaking failure.

His great disappointment, Eisenhower said, was that the nation could not be brought to the place where it could be said that peace with justice was in sight.

As for achievements, Eisenhower went on, the eight years spanned a period in which the Russians achieved the hydrogen bomb, built an arsenal of nuclear weapons, and supported the warlike threats of the Red Chinese—a period in which this country was fighting a war in Korea and there was grave danger it would spread.

This government showed the understanding, firmness and willingness to take risks in support of policies which prevented the great war from coming, the President said.

Had there been weakness in that time, Eisenhower continued, he is convinced there would have been a war that would have been disastrous to all the earth.

After this grave speech—the longest of the new conference—Eisenhower suddenly grinned and said that Nov. 8 was another great disappointment.

Apart from this rueful comment, and despite the many probing questions, Eisenhower declined to give his version of what went wrong in the presidential election which cost the Republican party control of the White House.

794 Tax Queries Are Mailed Here

A total of 794 individual questionnaires were sent out by the City Income Tax Department today, announced J. Emerson Davis, Salem city tax consultant.

Davis said that the list is only partial and that the remaining questionnaires will be sent out in a few days.

Along with the questionnaires is a booklet containing a copy of the ordinance, rules and regulations, and a deduction chart. A return envelope is also enclosed.

Davis said that the tax department would appreciate a prompt return of the questionnaire, showing the name of the out-of-town employer and answering the question on rentals.

Cites Policies For Sustained Prosperity

Message Conflicts Sharply With JFK Task Force Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower predicted today that the faltering economy would advance soon into "a period of sound growth."

The President's annual economic report—his last major message to Congress—called for 14 pieces of legislation. None could be called an anti-recession measure.

Instead, Eisenhower urged on Congress these policies for sustained prosperity: Keep his new $1 billion budget in balance. Keep inflation under control.

In tone and content, the message was in sharp conflict with the most nearly comparable Democratic document, the Jan. 5 report of President-elect John F. Kennedy's economic task force.

The Democratic group called for emergency federal action extending unemployment compensation for workers who have exhausted their jobless pay, along with other programs boosting federal outlays by $3 billion to $5 billion in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Eisenhower conceded Congress should consider providing some supplement to jobless pay "in periods of especially high rates of unemployment." But his economic advisers told newsmen that the present rate—6.8 per cent—wasn't high enough to justify federal help.

The President's legislative wishlist was topped by a demand that 1962 appropriations "be held within the limits of expected revenues."

It then repeated all the tax proposals of Monday's budget message and other measures—most of them identical with last year's requests.

They included: postal rate increases to make the postal system self-supporting; removal of the 4 1/2 per cent interest ceiling on government bonds; additional legislation to assist chronically depressed areas; a "moderate" increase in the $1 minimum wage.

In all its 214-page length, the message never spoke of a recession, business dip, or downturn

Man Faces Murder Count In Deaths of Wife, 11 Children

BEDFORD, Que., (AP)—Crown prosecutor Claude Noiseux said he will charge Abel Vosburgh, 63, with murder today in the death of his wife and 11 children, whose bodies were found in their burned shanty home Dec. 29.

A coroner's jury Tuesday night found Vosburgh, sole survivor of the fire, criminally responsible. As a crowd of 300 persons milled around outside the hearing room, Vosburgh denied he caused the fire and kept his family from escaping.

Vosburgh, an unemployed laborer, testified the flames awoke him and that he called to his wife, whom police said was dead before the fire started. Vosburgh said he then ran to a water pump outside their home in the village of Noyon, 35 miles south of Montreal.

Vosburgh denied he ever beat his 43-year-old wife. One of the four Vosburgh children away from home when the fire broke out, Irving, 18, testified his mother and father fought "about once a month" and that his father broke his mother's ribs during a fight four years ago. He also testified his father threatened to kill his mother, "but I don't know if he meant it."

FINED BY MAYOR

Three persons were fined a total of $75, recently in Mayor Dean Cranmer's court.

Those fined: Francis Earl Moore, 43, East Canton, $25 for truck overload.

Thomas E. Mills, 28, Alliance, $25 for permitting unlicensed driver to operate motor vehicle.

Gary Anderson, 19, Alliance, $25 for no operator's license.

Thomas A. Butler

Assistant City Recreational Director Hired

Thomas A. Butler, 28, of Lakewood has accepted a position as assistant recreational director here, Charles F. Tomlinson, superintendent of parks and recreation, told City Council Tuesday night.

Butler, a December graduate of Kent State University with a bachelor of science degree in recreation, will begin his duties Monday.

He succeeds John Dawson, who resigned last September to become recreational director at Madison Heights, Mich., near Detroit.

An Army veteran, Butler will receive an annual salary of $4,200.

Prior to accepting the local job, Butler did parttime work in the recreational field at the Firestone Park YMCA, in Akron, Cleveland Boys School at Hudson and other places.

Mayor Cranmer Files For 4th Term Bid

Mayor Dean B. Cranmer, serving his third term as Salem's mayor, filed with the County Board of Elections today as a candidate for the Democratic primary election May 2.

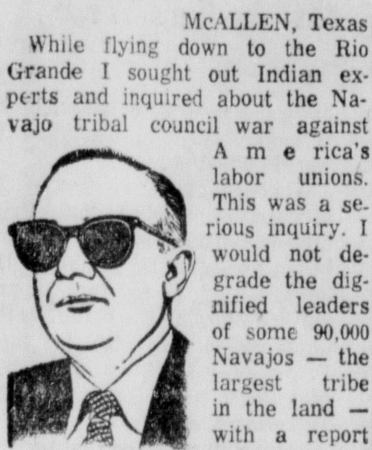

The mayor had indicated earlier that he would seek re-election. He was first elected in November of 1953, taking office Jan. 1, 1954, and was re-elected two years later. He lost out to Republican Harold D. Smith in 1957 and beat Smith in November of 1959 to win his present third term.

Several other mayor candidates have been mentioned in both party circles for the spring primaries but Mayor Cranmer today became the first to file. In fact, only two Council candidates have filed, Morrison Luce and Paul M. Howard, both Democrats.

The Salem Democratic party will meet Monday night at the Memorial Building at the call of Chairman William Steffel to draft a primary slate.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

McALLEN, Texas — While flying down to the Rio Grande I sought out Indian experts and inquired about the Navajo tribal council war against America's labor unions. This was a serious inquiry. I would not degrade the dignified leaders of some 90,000 Navajos — the largest tribe in the land — with a report written around words such as warpath, tomahawking the enemy, smoking pipes of peace or gags about wigwams and smoke signals.

The fact is that for two years now, Paul Jones, chairman of the 74-man Navajo tribal council and his colleagues have been fighting to keep unions off their 21,000 square mile reservation.

They've taken their battle into the U.S. District Court of Appeals — a long way from Mexican Hat, Utah, where it all started.

MEXICAN HAT is up at the northern end of the Navajo reservation which stretched across Utah, New Mexico and Arizona. It's loaded with uranium.

There the Texas Corp. and New Jersey Zinc Co. jointly run the Texas Zinc Mineral Corp. which ships more than $5 million worth of uranium extract annually to the Atomic Energy Commission installation in Colorado.

It isn't a big plant. There are only 87 production, maintenance, transportation workers and service station attendants. Of these 47 are Indians and 40 are not.

Just about a year ago the United Steelworkers of America decided to unionize them. A long came the Operating Engineers and the Hod Carriers. They, too, wanted jurisdiction.

The Navajo tribal council fought them off, with slings and arrows of outraged principles. But the tribe did not declare war until it gave the union men a hearing.

The Indian leaders were not enlightened. No one could truly explain why three unions should be fighting for their 47 tribesmen. No one could explain why the three labor organizations, the steelworkers, the hod carriers and the operating engineers should be fighting among themselves.

FURTHERMORE, the tribal elders did not like what they had heard and read about corruption and misbehavior in some unions. They did not want to become involved.

And, said the Navajos, they themselves had swifter, more effective methods of handling labor relations. Grievances inside the plant, or in any of the other booming businesses on the reservation — which is the size of West Virginia — are handled on the spot.

Indians with a gripe, or against whom the foreman has a complaint, are heard by the council. If the Indian grievance has no merit, he is told to go right back to work.

If employers are found guilty of unfair practices, they are told to remedy them immediately. Otherwise they are told to get off the reservation.

The Navajo council simply believes that its people — despite the number of young men who went off the reservation to fight for the U.S. and returned more worldly than when they left — are still too inexperienced to be signed up by outside union agents.

The council, therefore, has passed a resolution stating that tribe members who engage in union activity on the reservation get 30 days at hard labor. Non-Indians are banished for a similar "offense."

NAVAJO CHAIRMAN Paul Jones now 65, went into the federal courts to beat off National Labor Relations Board directives that he and his council permit union elections at Mexican Hat.

Jones argued that his people had a treaty with the U.S., signed in 1868, which gave them autonomy in return for giving up the right to make war. The treaty, say the Navajos, gave them the power to keep any one off the reservation except soldiers and other legitimate agents of the U.S. government. NLRB officials are not authorized U.S. agents, assert the Indians.

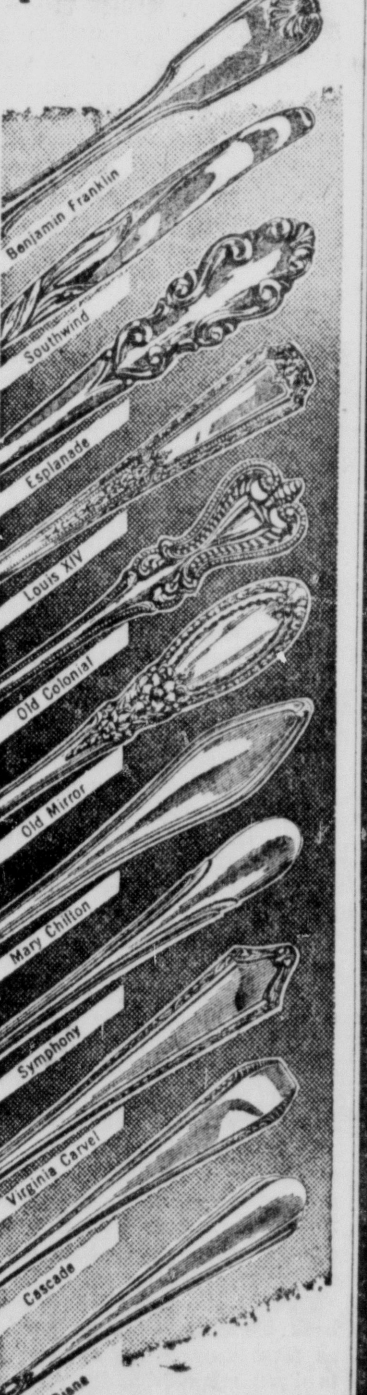

So, the tribal council wants them to stay off the reservation and not run a union representation election. This would exempt Navajo industry from the labor laws.

Labor had better look to its public relations, if this is what the original Americans think of it.

... And Now It's Only Policy

Federal budget time has turned into one of the zany interludes of government, like Senate filibusters, political campaigns and protocol at state dinners.

No one in his right senses tried to make sense out of federal budgets because there is, in fact, no sense in them any more. They are like those blackboard-filling exhibitions by which mathematics teachers prove to over-trusting pupils that figures are tricky.

The new budget calls for spending at the rate of $80,865 billion starting next July 1, which is comparable with spending at the rate of $78,945 billion in the 12 months that began last July 1. Spending is still on the rise.

Whether the national debt is still on the rise, too, is not declared, but it probably is, because it has been for so long that no one expects it to be anything else.

In 1863, the national debt went over a billion for the first time. In 1893, it fell a little below a billion; the capita debt was $14.50 at that time. Thanks to more people, the per capita figure fell to $11.85 in 1915. Today, it is better than $1,500 apiece—and still growing.

The significant thing about its growth is this:

No other country can hold a candle to the U.S. rate of debt-making, either public or private, and by the same token no other country can match this country's high living standards and free-handed spending throughout the world.

THE QUESTION is whether the United States is where it is today because it has plunged into debt, or whether it would be better off if it could balance its national budget, pile up surpluses and pay off an important part of its debt.

Most of us grew up in the belief that individuals who get so far in debt they can't pay out end up in trouble.

Yet we are told, as taxpayers, that what is bad for us as individuals is good for us as a national society. We have recently gone through a national election in which neither major-party candidate promised to ease up on spending and one of the candidates—the winner—looked with favor on proposals that would step up the spending rate.

This same candidate, moreover, talked then and some of his advisers are talking now about easing up on tax collections, which would mean less revenue and therefore a larger deficit for the federal government.

No one, by the way, puts any credence in the new budget's prospect of a surplus this year or next year, including Mr. Eisenhower's own budget makers, who admit this would be impossible without a speedy boost in postage rates and boosts in gasoline and jet fuel (kerosene) taxes.

What, then, is behind the figures that budget-makers and budget-explainers have so much fun with each January when they make our eyes pop with 12-digit sums?

IT'S A CLASH between private and public spending.

Private spenders play according to the rules of private finance.

Public spenders play according to the theory of public finance; there are no rules, only theories, because public finance, U.S. style, is still in the experimental stage.

Public spenders believe a national debt owned inside the nation is money we owe ourselves, as Franklin Roosevelt said it was after he became a public spender. They believe public debt is not really a debt at all but only a means of making the national economy do what they want it to do.

Public spenders look upon their critics as stick-in-the-mud fogies who have not kept abreast of the times. When the critics wonder if the public spenders know what they're doing, the spenders reply that they know exactly what they're doing. They are managing the national economy, which is what they set out to do at the beginning of the New Deal.

They've made giant strides. Through taxes, interest rates, federal grants and what-not, they manage us, which is to say they manage the national economy. What used to be money now is an instrument of policy.

Whether or not they know what they're managing remains to be proved. They've been doing something stupid about the gold supply that has landed them in trouble, but they will work out of that if it takes everything we have. The whole thing is, they know what they're doing and we don't, which gives them all the advantage.

That Is How It Works, Junior

It crosses the minds of newspapermen every so often that many people who wonder why television does things one way and newspapers another do not know how the two media differ, aside from technical difference.

Television is a medium licensed to operate by authority of Congress and regulated by the rules of the Federal Communications Commission. A television station, like a radio station, operates in fear of not having its license renewed if it incurs the disfavor of the FCC.

This might happen if it incurred the disfavor of other people in government who would get in touch with enough FCC commissioners to twist the arm of the licensee. It is to the credit of the FCC and the government as a whole that it doesn't happen, but it could happen.

This is the great difference between a television station and the press. The press cannot be touched by any act of Congress; it says so in the first article of the Bill of Rights. It cannot be licensed, therefore it cannot be intimidated by government. And here is a case in point:

The director of the U.S. Bureau of Prisons threatened American Broadcasting Co. to oppose renewal of its stations' licenses if they broadcast a show depicting a prison guard in cahoots with the late Al Capone. It is to ABC's credit that it broadcast the show anyway, albeit with an apology to the Bureau of Prisons, but it now remains to be seen whether the threat to oppose license renewals will be carried out.

In the meantime, threats were made. Executives had to swallow hard and decide to go through with it, knowing what the consequences could be if they made the Washington bureaucrats mad enough. And that, Junior, is how it works. The threat of reprisal is almost as bad as the real thing. To avoid it, television leans over backward and its advertisers actually do back-somersaults.

"Best in the long run" is a good slogan except for the maker's of women's hosiery.

Divorce cases indicate that an awful lot of affections are stolen because they are not kept where they belong.

Folks born in a trailer home may grow up to have a bit of gypsy in them.

Once Over

Switch of Jim Hagerty from Washington government to radio and TV is in itself a "Western," considering that the election had many features of cowboy violence. It featured neck-and-neck bronco race across prairies and wound up with Jim losing out to Mr. Salinger in a sort of "Okay Corral Battle."

Hagerty comes to TV after eight years playing Wyatt Earp to the President, searching every stagecoach for bad hombres and beating many a troublemaker to the "draw." Both Ike and Jim had it rougher than all the town marshals in movies or TV, and this includes Bat Masterson, and the stars of Laramie, Wells Fargo, Rawhide and Tombstone Territory.

The minute the youthful pioneer "Boston" Kennedy came galloping in to take over the Potomac reservation, "Tex" Goldenson of ABC, got "Honey-moon" Daly out of the saddle and lassoed Hagerty. At first Jim thought maybe he had been captured by the Indians.

It muddled the public, which wasn't sure whether Hagerty was being made another character in Wagon Train or invited to open a desk in a new job. Jim formally accepted the other day saying "Yup" in Gary Cooper manner to question "Are you cutting off unemployment at the crossroad?"

Jim is now taking a period of adjustment to cowboy hats, probably realizing that in ABC men have been shot from saddle fairly often when ambushed from a special conference on ratings. Hagerty will be a veep in charge of special events, news and public affairs.

In the special events field he had eight years experience in presidential press session quiz show, "This Is My Life," and "Sometimes You Can Have It." He is a natural in news matters, but public affairs? It all depends. Will he schedule any with Democrats in the cast?

Hagerty's salary is reported at $50,000 a year, twice that he got in Washington combat zone enduring more roughage than High

O'Brian, Robert Culp, Dale Robertson or Steve McQueen. (That's easy to understand. Washington hasn't the money to spend that show biz has)

A NEW YORK HOSPITAL manager has been arrested charging with stealing $45,000 of hospital funds. It will be ironical if he calls medical experts to prove he was sick.

Harvard may have to put up a sign "CLOSED ON ACCOUNT OF WASHINGTON." On subject of signs, big laugh during Mr. Kennedy's visit to Harvard was one over dormitory where he roomed, "This Is A Depressed Area."

Not until the Centennial of the Civil War has there been proper emphasis on the rare personalities of Generals Lee and Grant.

West Pointers both, Lee was highly regarded always but Grant was a seedy failure held so cheaply in his own town of Galena that he was called "Useless" instead of Ulysses. In movies it would be called too far-fetched but Grant, out of the Army and a shabby looking failure, began the Civil War by drilling a home-town regiment. When it left for the front, other men led it to the station, while Grant trailed along almost unnoticed.

Yet in this overlooked figure was the man destined to lead the largest army in history up to that time and smash through to victory. Soon after his drilling activities he went to McClellan's quarters to offer his services as a West Point grad and Mexican War veteran. McClellan refused to see him. He was a target for bitter abuse through most of the war, even in victory, but wound up President of the United States.

State of New York has taken action that may help cut down highway tragedies. It will license drivers by grades, requiring tougher tests from truck, trailer-truck and bus drivers than taxi drivers and vivilians. Up to now operators driving huge, powerful and often over-loaded trucks have obtained licenses as easily as drivers of midget cars. Other states may follow suit.

'I Know How Meade Felt When the Battle Was Over'

Labor's Political Influence

By PETER EDSON

Carey, "that we shall do all in our power to prove to the working men and women in your district that you have cast your lot against them and that they should therefore take appropriate action at the ballot box."

OF THESE 229, only six were defeated. Eighteen of the 229 retired or died before the election and 205 were re-elected.

James R. Hoffa of the Teamsters' union attempted a more narrow purge, but was no more successful. He picked out 56 of the 229 to work against. They were the 56 who had won election in 1958 by 55 per cent of the vote or less in their districts.

Only one of the 56 was defeated. Six retired or died before election and 49 were re-elected in spite of Hoffa opposition.

Biehl P. Clarke, of Civic Affairs Associates, who compiled these results, points out that the Teamsters' political organization, still "primitive on political know-how" did not realize that the 55 per cent category based on 1958 election returns was not a reliable basis on which to figure. The reason given is that 1958 was so disastrous for Republicans that 1960 could hardly fail to show a substantial improvement.

Both "COPE" and "DRIVE," the two principal labor union political operators in the last election, claim about 60 per cent success in electing congressional candidates they backed.

AFL-CIO'S COMMITTEE on Political Education backed 24 candidates for the U.S. Senate. Fifteen won for a .625 batting average. The Teamsters' Democratic, Republican and independent voters' education organization backed 15 candidates for the Senate and elected 12 for a batting average of .832.

COPE backed 256 candidates for the House and 156 of them were elected for a batting average of .609.

DRIVE backed 233 candidates for the House and 137 of them were elected for a batting average of .588.

While these percentages look good, "they are actually meaningless," according to the Civic Affairs Associates analysis.

There were 437 congressmen to be elected. AFL-CIO unions chose to endorse candidates in only 59 per cent of the districts, Teamster locals in only 53 per cent.

"Anyone with a little political know-how could pick 100 congressmen to support who were sure of re-election and be able to bat 1,000 batting death or acts of God," the Civic Affairs analysis points out. But such winners would have been elected without support, so it would have been of no account.

What stands out is that COPE backed 99 congressional candidates who lost and DRIVE backed 96. So labor union supports not an infallible assurance of victory.

And in many races labor political organization support had to be concealed for fear the public knowledge of it would backfire and help defeat the endorsed candidate.

Kennedy as President

Hands Will Be Tied, Just as Ike's Were

By DAVID LAWRENCE

What kind of president will John F. Kennedy make? All over the world that very question is being asked but the answer will not be found in his campaign speeches. It will not be obtained by analyzing his personality or career in public service. In fact, the key isn't in Mr. Kennedy's possession at all. The following persons have the real answer:

Premier Nikita Khrushchev of the Soviet Union.
Chinese Premier Mao Tse-tung of the Red China regime.
Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Great Britain.
President Charles de Gaulle of France.
Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany.

These five men control the future prestige of the Kennedy administration. For the United States cannot go it alone — it cannot overrule its allies or force its potential enemy to retreat. The Soviet Union, moreover, can produce crisis after crisis based on disunity or differences among the Western allies.

The notion that John Kennedy has become dictator of the world's destiny is fallacious. His hands are tied — just as were those of President Eisenhower. All the hysterical rantings of the critics about lowered prestige or lack of leadership by President Eisenhower ignores a simple fact — that the head of the American government is not the boss and that he has only one choice, between war or peace.

If he chooses peace, then patience and forbearance, which are easily misjudged as weakness, can be criticized once more.

Significantly, W. Averell Harriman, former ambassador to Russia and designated as ambassador-at-large in the new administration, said on a radio program, taped last Friday, that Americans will have to learn to live with the "cold war" for a long time.
Rep. John W. McCormack, the Democratic party's leader in the House of Representatives, in "radio news conference" on Sunday, took a different view as he accused President Eisenhower of "very weak leadership on the world level" and called for sacrifices to roll back Communist gains. He said:

"The American people in my opinion are warriors. We're not quitters. But the people should be given the truth and they're commencing to get it now through the newspapers."

MR. MCCORMACK discussed Laos, Cuba, Berlin, the Congo and relations with the Allies. He spoke of Gen. de Gaulle as "concerned with his internal problems — a courageous man but upmost in his mind is France internally and he's compelled to disregard the world situation.

While not saying so directly, Mr. McCormack implied that Prime Minister Macmillan is inclined to be an appeaser. He remarked that he was sorry to say that Macmillan is "following the pathways that Chamberlain took when the latter 'gave away to Hitler in the hope that Hitler would be satisfied, Mr. McCormack added."

"And Hitler showed that the road of appeasement is the road to war. We need firmness. It means one has got to be capable and have to take the calculated risk of action and firmness against the calculated risk of inaction."

This is an almost exact description of the art of "brinkmanship" for which the late John Foster Dulles was roundly denounced and ridiculed by many of the speakers of the Democratic party. Questioned about this, Mr. McCormack said that he had been one of the "strongest admirers" of Mr. Dulles' foreign policy in the last two years before the latter's death.

THE HOUSE Democratic majority leader also declared that defense expenditures should be stepped up because "that's a message to the Communists, to Khrushchev and them that they understand." He added: "If they understand that President Kennedy is doing his own homework, is making his own decisions and when he makes decisions, he means it, that's the language they understand. That will do more to create the spirit, bring back the unity among our Allies. It'll stop countries from being neutral."

What does it all mean? That Mr. Kennedy is going to try to lay down the law to our Allies and tell them they must conform to American "leadership?"

Does it mean he will threaten Khrushchev with war if necessary? One wonders how he is going to get the Communists out of Africa and keep them from more aggressions in Southeast Asia. Will it be by offering more money to the "neutrals?"

HOW, MOREOVER, will Mr. Kennedy deal with Communist infiltration in the United States—by supporting James Roosevelt's efforts in the House to cut down the money used by the House Committee on Un-American Activities to uncover Communist operations in our own schools and colleges and to expose their efforts to undermine institutions here and throughout Latin America?

Mr. Kennedy already has many advisers. Some believe as Mr. McCormack does, and others want to hurry up and admit Red China into the United Nations and retreat on the Quemoy and Matsu question.

Mr. Kennedy has the sympathy and best wishes of many citizens who want neither war nor appeasement but, instead, a policy of armed patience in the face of deliberate provocations to war.

Familiar, But Changed

By HAL BOYLE

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—He looked familiar across the crowded ballroom, but for a moment I couldn't place him.

Then it came back to me. Why, of course. How could I ever forget? I had known his son well in high school, and had visited in his house several times then.

"It's a real pleasure to see you again, sir," I said, stepping up and wringing him by the hand. "You probably don't remember me, but I used to know your son Joe real well—years and years ago."

The man stared at me, then said: "You really are lost. I am Joe. I wondered when you were going to say hello."

Well, that's the way it is. They say you can't come home again. This isn't true. You can come home again.

But if you meet high school classmates after a quarter of a century or more you find something has happened to them.

The girls look like their mothers, the boys like their fathers. What has time done to them? It is very hard to understand.

It is now 24 years this very month that I left this lovely home town of mine—the heart of America—to storm New York City with empty pockets and a head full of dreams.

Through the years I have come back home as often as I could, as most sons of the Midwest do, to drink again from the renewing common sense fountain that flows deepest in the center of our continent.

On each visit I could see signs of vital change in terms of expansion and new building, but also signs of decay in things I would like to remain fixed forever as I had known them in my childhood.

On this trip, for example, Punky, the family dog, who is 9 years old, didn't bark when my cab rolled up to the house. She stood there waiting, like a cinnamon-colored duchess — she's mostly Chinese chow—until I patted her on the head. Then she smiled gravely and moved heavily after me to the front door.

"Poor Punky," said my mother later. "She has a bad cyst on her leg. We've given her X rays, and she's had two operations—and the doctor says a third won't do any good."

"It may be necessary later to put her to sleep, and I just can't think about it. None of us can. She has been such a good dog."

When you come home again, news like that depresses you. You feel the weight of mortality pressing on others. But somehow you feel impervious to change yourself. You are still as young as the day you left town. Nothing has happened to you.

The other night I went to a social occasion and overheard a couple talking.

"He's beginning to look more and more like his father," he said. "It's almost creepy."

"Oh, no," she disagreed. "His father never lost that much hair—and he would never have let himself get that fat."

He shrugged her. "Be careful. He's standing right there."

They walked away. It took me a full two minutes to realize whom they had been talking about.

Jobless

E. Hildebrand, R-Lucas, would make permanent the maximum 39-week benefit period. Reno described the measure as one containing "no tricks, no gimmicks, no trigger clauses."

Bill With Trigger Clause

The third, sponsored by House Industry and Labor Chairman William W. Milligan, R-Shelby, is the one with the trigger clause and also the one which appears to have legislative leadership blessing.

As Milligan describes it, the bill provides that any calendar quarter in which the number of unemployed exceeds 6 1/2 per cent of the covered workers in each week of the quarter would be designated a trigger quarter. A person who exhausted his jobless benefits in the trigger quarter or the following quarter would be entitled to extended benefits.

Such a plan, Milligan told the committee, would give the Ohio economy a boost at the time of any serious economic downturn. Further hearings on the three measures are scheduled tonight and again next week.

"It is necessary to continue, step by step, to bring aggressive-minded imperialists to their senses, to compel them to reckon with the real situation. And if they balk, we shall take resolute measures. We shall sign a peace treaty with the (East) German Democratic Republic, for we are fully determined to conclude a German peace treaty, at long last, in order to pull out the thorn that the occupation regime in West Berlin is."

By DUANE E. CROFT
Salem News Correspondent

COLUMBUS — State Rep. Clarence Wetzel (R-Columbiana) introduced a bill in the Ohio House Wednesday to permit strip mine operators to use certificates of bank deposits as security bond.

He co-sponsored the proposal with Rep. Charles Rothel (R-Harrison).

Three Mahoning County legislators introduced several measures Tuesday.

Rep. G. D. Tablack (D-Mahoning) proposed giving township trustees the authority to establish regulations to control dogs within their subdivision.

ple freight cars where possible to permit passage of traffic with a minimum of delay.

Councilman Albert Lesch reported he had been contacted by a number of Newgarden Ave. residents who wanted to know if Council intended to go ahead with the proposed parking restrictions on the west side of the street.

He said the callers had complained that cars parked along the snow banks created on both sides of the street by plows during recent heavy snows had impeded traffic.

Councilman Ralph Zimmerman replied that the parking restriction had not been dropped. He said the ban on Newgarden Ave. was part of an overall project scheduled to facilitate traffic and eliminate certain dangerous conditions in the city, and would be acted upon in the future.

He declared, however, that several other long-standing traffic and parking problems had precedence.

Lesch added that some of Newgarden Ave. residents had commended the city service department on its speedy removal of snow and ice from the street during the past two years.

In other action, Councilman Donald Cannon, chairman of the street lighting committee, reported on progress of the service department in erecting new lights and replacing underground cable. He also discussed future lighting projects which will be undertaken when funds are available.

Favor Rt. 62 Inside County

Council also went on record as favoring the southerly route of the proposed Rt. 62 relocation, keeping the road in Columbiana County.

The two alternative paths submitted by the State Highway Department would take the highway through Mahoning County.

Attending last night's meeting as visitors were Scout Master Rodman Franklin and a group of Boy Scouts of Troop 5 of the First Christian Church.

In addition to Salem and Lisbon, the directory contains telephone listings for Columbiana, East Palestine, Leetonia, New Waterford, North Lima, Rogers and Winona.

In the Winona section of the book, the telephone numbers are all numerals. Instead of the old AC2 prefix, the numbers start with 222. This is not a number change, but merely a conversion of the two-letter prefix into numerals.

Although no all-numeral numbers appear in other sections of the new directory, Ohio Bell Commercial Manager W. J. McKay said the company will begin assigning all numeral numbers March 1 to new subscribers, to present subscribers who move to another address and to others who require a number change for any reason.

Loony Larcenies of 1960:

Thieves Took Driveway, Garbage

By MEADER G. PATTINGTON
NEW YORK — (NEA) — A woman in Meridian, Miss., complained to police that thieves stole all the concrete pieces in her driveway which was broken up in a street-paving project.

And while police tried to lay that 1960 Loony Larceny to rest, puzzled thieves left the contents of eight cartons in a field near Lockport, N.Y. The contents? Jigsaw puzzles.

Not a trace was found of the careful burglar in Dallas who robbed a tavern of 252 cans of beer and 174 breath-cleansing chlorophyll tablets.

Five thief-proof locks were lifted in Gothenburg, Sweden, at an exhibition called "Stop the Thief."

In 1960, a 16-foot aluminum canoe was stolen. The owner told police that it had a hole in the bottom—the only patch being a Band-Aid.

AND IN TOLEDO, OHIO, two 20-gallon garbage cans were stolen; both of them were filled to the brim with garbage.

Car thefts had their place. A three-time loser explained that he only stole cars when he became too drunk to walk home.

Cars still need engines to run. Thieves pushed one a quarter of a mile for a quiet getaway in Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, only to find that it had no engine. Hoodwinked again!

Pity the poor watchdog: a home near Von Ormy, Tex., was robbed of $150 worth of materials plus one object whose worth was not easily determined — the owner's watchdog. And police caught two escaped convicts in St. Petersburg, Fla., in the company of the prison bloodhound.

Stores came in for their share of odd cases: a thief in Huntington, W. Va., tried to break into a store so that he could get back and finish the season with a local penitentiary basketball team. Discharged on a petty larceny charge for eating candy, bananas, string beans, strawberries and sugar-coated ham in a supermarket, the indignant eater told the court: "Why I've been eating there for more than five years."

Told by a Detroit grocery clerk that the store next door had more money, the appreciative thief thanked the clerk and went to call on that next "customer." He was promptly arrested. And a loyal store detective in Kingston-on-Thames, England, was arrested for shoplifting from a neighborhood store.

SOME BURGLARS used every break they could get. After breaking into a Dayton, Ohio, Do-It-Yourself store, the enterprising yeggs used the tools on sale to crack a safe; they took more than $1,000. And a private eye in Detroit complained that a thief had stolen his detective kit containing fingerprinting tools, diploma, badge and magnifying glass.

A Reno patrolman investigating two suspicious characters was robbed and tied up in his own handcuffs. And a library in Pullman, Wash., reported a stolen book. The title? "Cheating—How It Can Be Stopped."

A Los Angeles owner of a coin-operated laundry was fined when he tried to steal $1,500 worth of heirloom jewelry that a customer was washing in one of the machines. In Vancouver, B.C., thieves found with nearly 900 coins in their pockets, argued that they were hunting for a rare nickel. They were convicted, however, for robbing parking meters.

Another collector in Nashville, Tenn., a postal employee, was arrested for tearing stamps off mail to add to his collection.

FOOD MEANT MORE than money to some robbers. A porter in Hove, England, carrying $8,000 worth of jewelry and a salmon sandwich, lost only the fish-bread when he was held up. Another thief in Rome, Ga., after stealing milk from a man's front porch, left a note for a delivery of chocolate milk. He took that, too.

An early morning milkman burglar in Brooklyn insisted that he had never robbed a customer. A restaurant owner, tired of losing a large number of spoons each month, ended the thefts in Vancouver, B.C., when he drilled large holes in the bowls of all his spoons. A detective in Minneapolis, tired by a long stake-out for a female burglary suspect, kept a dinner date with his wife. He recognized the waitress as the suspect and arrested her.

Some thieves lose their nerve. In Sapporo, Japan, a third-story burglar there became so frightened by the height that he yelled for the police to get him down. Another accused thief in Denver, returned the money to his victim, thanked him for the loan, said he was not a thief and advised the owner to lock his safe.

AND SOME CAN talk their way out of any situation. Two gunmen in Yonkers, N.Y., took $8 from their victim. His hard luck story got him a $10 return.

A man in Indianapolis, prying a telephone apart with screwdriver, can opener, hammer and mallet, explained that he was only trying to recover a lost dime. In Bowling Green, Ohio, two ransackers caught breaking into the county courthouse explained that they thought it was a church.

Perhaps the looniest larceny of 1960—stolen, one kiss, from a passenger in a car. While the attempt was made by the driver, he crashed into a tree. The passenger's pretty ankle was broken and four teeth were knocked out. It happened in Aberdeen, Scotland.

If large potatoes are too much for single servings for your family, do this: cut in half lengthwise and make cross bar incisions about half-an-inch apart over the cut surfaces and then rub them with soft butter. Bake in a hot oven.

with 1 teaspoon brown sugar and 1 teaspoon dry bread crumbs. Dot with corn oil margarine. Place on broiler rack 5 inches from heat. Broil until tomatoes are tender and lightly browned, about 10 minutes.
Baked Stuffed Potatoes
Wash, then dry, unpared baking potatoes. Rub well with margarine. Bake in a hot oven 450 degrees F.) until tender, about 45 minutes. Cut slice from top of each potato. Carefully scoop out potatoes and mash. For each potato add 1 tablespoon margarine, 1 tablespoon skim milk, 1 teaspoon minced chives or a little grated onion and salt and pepper to taste. beat until fluffy. Pile mixture lightly into potato shells. brush tops with melted margarine and place under broiler just until lightly browned. NOTE: If a soft skin is desired, wrap potatoes in aluminum foil before baking.

Chicken Dinner in One Pot

A new Swedish steamer cooks a full course meal on two levels, on a single burner, with no mingling of food flavors, all ready to serve at the same time.

Here's a "split-level" menu: "pot roasted" chicken, carrots, green beans, potatoes in jackets, and steamed pudding.

"Pot Roasted" Chicken (Serves 4)
1 (3½-pound) broiler-fryer chicken, 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine, ½ teaspoon salt, round black pepper, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 cup chicken stock OR 1 bouillon cube dissolved in 1 cup boiling water, 3 large carrots, ½ pound green beans, 6 small potatoes, large lettuce leaves for split-level cooking.
Wash and dry whole chicken; brush inside with melted fat. Season. Tie tips of wings onto back of bird. Brush skin with melted fat. Melt 2 tablespoons fat in steamers' base pot; add chicken and brown. Remove; place a small rack in base pot and replace chicken; add chicken stock and bring to boil. Meanwhile prepare pudding and place in covered mold. When liquid in base pot boils, place a few clean lettuce leaves over chicken to cover completely and float on top.

Reduce heat. Place in-set pot with pudding in mold over base pot. Cover, and simmer for 1 hour. Meanwhile, prepare vegetables for steaming; set aside.

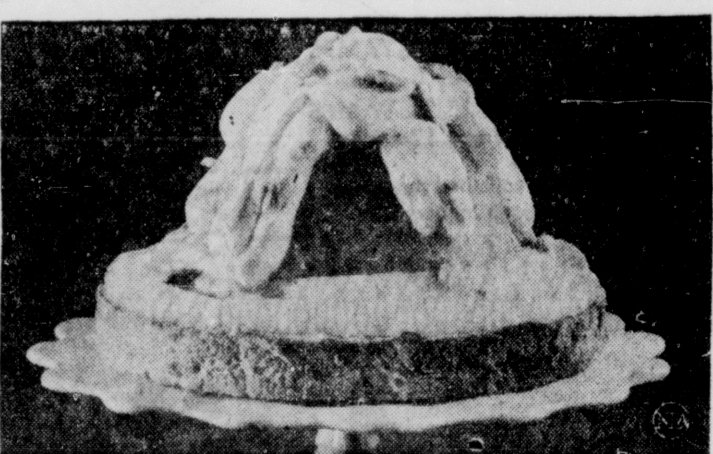

After one hour's simmering, remove in-set pot. Place carrots and beans next to chicken (under lettuce leaves) in base pot. Place in-set pot over base pot. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven about 8 minutes or until edges are browned. Remove to wire rack to cool.

Cookies get hard after storing; they're good for dunking! Makes about 5 dozen.

Note: This recipe does not call for baking powder or baking soda.

When you've opened a can or jar of pimientos and have used only one or two, cover the remaining with a cup of cold water to which a teaspoon of salt has been dissolved. Slowly pour salad over the top to make an one-eighth thick film; cover and refrigerate.

Try Applesauce Cone Cake

GAYNOR MADDOX

Here's a prime donna dessert—dramatic, eye catching and very, very appealing to its audience. Encores guaranteed.

Applesauce Cone
1 package white cake mix, 1 package lemon pie filling, 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, ½ cup orange juice, 2 cups canned applesauce, 1 tablespoon sugar, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1 cup heavy cream, whipped. Slivered toasted almonds.

Make the cake according to package directions in two layers, reserving one of the layers for future use. Follow direction on package for making the lemon pie filling and reserve half of the filling for use on another day. Soften gelatin in orange juice

5 minutes. Dissolve over boiling water. Combine applesauce, sugar, grated orange and lemon rind. Add the dissolved gelatin and mix well. Pour mixture into a cone-shaped mold or into a 2-cup mixing bowl and chill until set. Place one of the cake layers on a cake platter. Spread one-half of the lemon pie filling over the layer, then invert the molded applesauce and put it in the center of the cake. Top with whipped cream, flavored and sweetened if desired. Sprinkle with the almonds.

The second layer can be made into a dessert by topping it with whipped cream sprinkled liberally with angel flake coconut. The other half of the pie filling can be served as a pudding or used to fill small pastry shells.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. B. T. HYMAN

Innocent Infection Carriers

Regular readers of these columns may recall the report of "cloud babies" who bring home hospital-acquired staphylococci and then proceed to produce infections in various members of the household.

As the result of an investigation conducted under the auspices of the U.S. Public Health Service and the staff of the St. Joseph's Infirmary of Atlanta, Ga., "cloud babies" now are joined by "cloud surgeons" as in Dr. B. T. Hyman's innocent carriers of infection.

Briefly stated, the attention of the Atlanta investigators was called to an increasing number of "staph" infections in surgical wounds. The group suspected a human source. By a combination of Sherlock Holmes-like deductions and laboratory tests, the finger of suspicion pointed to a staff member, designated Surgeon C in the report.

IT WAS FOUND that cultures of his nose, face and hands were laden with the particular strain of staphylococci responsible for all wound infections. When this information became available, Surgeon C was sent on a three-week vacation. During this period he was vigorously treated with antibiotics. And, while he was absent from the infirmary, postoperative wound infections ceased to appear.

On his return, Surgeon C was subjected to an intensive re-examination. When the infecting strain of staphylococci could no longer be demonstrated Surgeon C was permitted to return to his duties. For several months thereafter, there were no further infections.

AFTER SIX months of uninterrupted wound healing, a pair of postoperative infections was observed. Cultural studies were resumed. And, once again, Surgeon C was found to be the healthy and innocent carrier of the particular Staphylococcal strain present in the infected wounds. Again the "cloud surgeon" absented himself. And, with his departure, the problem of wound infections ceased to exist.

Apart from the practical value of these studies in the prevention of postoperative complications, publication of this report in the Journal of the American Medical Association is an achievement to which every physician may point with great pride.

A LITTLE more than 100 years ago, Dr. Ignaz Philipp Semmelweis was driven from his post in Vienna for daring to suggest that puerperal or childbirth fever was caused by mysterious agents (now identified as streptococci), carried to the delivery room by physicians who had recently attended autopsies.

And, in America, a group of prominent physicians demanded that Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes resign his professorship at the Harvard Medical School when he spoke and wrote in defense of his European colleague.

NOW, A CENTURY later, acting on behalf of patients throughout the world, the Georgia investigators and the editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association unhesitatingly publish information that their colleagues of a 100 years ago would have fought to suppress, in a mistaken belief that they were acting in the "best interests" of their profession.

Small Pecan Pies Are Great Big Hits

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A professional baker had an alluring idea this season. She sent batches of miniature pecan pies all over the country to be sold in specialty food shops.

One taste of these and we were sure home cooks would like to make them because they are a natural for storing in the freezer.

Then friends offered a delightful suggestion: why not vary the pecan filling? So in the following recipe you'll find the nuts teamed with chocolate, pineapple and candied fruit — and each filling delectable.

The miniature pies may be baked in everyday small muffin pans. "But how do you cut pastry to fit them?" we have heard home cooks ask.

It's a matter of measure m e n t. First invert the muffin pan. With a piece of string measure one of the cups, up one side, across the bottom and down the other side. Now snip off or measure this length of cord; choose a round cookie cutter whose diameter is the same length as the cord. The cutter will make rounds of dough that just fit the cups.

After rolling and cutting the pastry all you do is press the rounds into the cups, patting over the edges in a few places, and taking care not to stretch the dough.

Some southerners insist that pecan pie should be served with a drift of whipped cream. The cream topping won't hurt these miniature pies, but because they are not so devastatingly sweet as the big pies, it's not absolutely necessary.

Miniature Pecan Pies
Rich pastry (made with 2 cups flour), 2 eggs, 2-3 cup dark corn syrup, ¼ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 2-3 cup finely chopped pecans.

Roll out pastry; cut into 24 rounds with 4-inch cookie cutter; fit into 24 small (each 2 inches by 1 inch) muffin-pan cups. Beat eggs enough to blend yolks and whites; add corn syrup, sugar, salt and vanilla; beat gently to combine. Stir in pecans.

Spoon into pastry cups allowing about 1 tablespoon filling for each. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven 25 to 30 minutes. Remove from pans and cool on rack.

Variations: Make enough pastry to fit 32 of the 2 by 1 inch muffinpan cups. The basic pecan filling may be varied the following ways.

Chocolate Pecan: Add and stir in 1-3 cup fortified chocolate-flavored syrup to pecan filling.

Pineapple Pecan: Place a scant teaspoon drained crushed pineapple in each pastry-lined cup; add 2 teaspoons pecan filling.

Fruit Pecan: Place a scant teaspoon chopped candied fruit in each pastry-lined cup; add 2 teaspoons pecan filling.

Storage: Any of the miniature pecan pie varieties may be wrapped suitably for freezing and stored in the freezer for 2 weeks to 1 month. Unwrap and heat in a hot (400 degrees) oven until thawed and warm — about 5 minutes. Allow to stand at room temperature a few minutes for pastry to get crispier before serving.

Scouts To Attend Polar Bear Camp

About 200 Boy Scouts in the Shawnee District are expected to attend a polar bear camp this weekend at Camp McKinley, north-east of Lisbon.

The camp is designed to provide training for scouts to live comfortably outdoors under adverse weather conditions. It will be held Saturday and Sunday.

Boy Scouts will sleep in sleeping bags in tents. All cooking will be done over an open wood fire, and competitive skills and projects are to be prepared by the patrols.

Patrols may come to camp Friday if they wish but they must register Saturday morning. Programs will be held in the afternoon and evening, with religious services scheduled for Sunday morning for both Protestants and Catholics. The scouts will break camp Sunday between 1 and 2 p.m.

Jack Hovis of Salem will be camporee director. Others helping will be Norman Spiker of Columbiana, Leroy Schweitzer of New Waterford, Bruce Nichols of East Palestine, Irvin McLaughlin of Salem, Heber Lessig of Lisbon, Thomas Starkey of Salem and Dean Senanefes of Lisbon.

Raymond Dyke of East Palestine, Norman Wilhelm of New Waterford, James Pappas and Ken Mugridge, executive director of the Shawnee District, both of Lisbon.

She displayed drawings from her art classes.

Mrs. Stanley Wolski, chairman of the ways and means committee, discussed various ways for raising money, and the group decided on two projects, selling valentines and a spring festival.

Mrs. John Reese was elected to attend Beaver Local School Board meetings. She disclosed that the board was considering a centralized cafeteria. The group decided to have Harry Greenwood, clerk of the Beaver Local Board, as the speaker for its next meeting Feb. 20.

Mrs. Jack Pozenel reported on the membership for this year.

Sewage Problem At E. Palestine Studied

EAST PALESTINE — The problem of 35 homes discharging sewage into city streams was discussed at City Council meeting Monday night.

County Commissioners Walter A. Hunston and Galen Greenisen and County Sanitarian Harry Stockdale recommended that residents of the north and northeast sections of the city involved in the situation adopt a voluntary program to connect with the city's sewage system.

It was suggested that the people form a citizens committee to petition for signatures to request the city to extend sewage facilities to the area. At the same time annexation procedures may be studied.

City Council had protested to the commissioners concerning this pollution problem. In addition to discharging sewage, other homes have faulty septic tanks, causing seepage into the streams which flow through the city.

If you cover small white onions with boiling water and allow them to stand for several minutes, you'll probably find—after dipping them in cold water—that you can peel them without tears.

Try Ham-Stuffed Mushrooms

GAYNOR MADDOX

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Fresh artichokes are good eating. Most of the globe artichokes we enjoy come from counties in central California — about 10,000 acres in all. When we visited there recently we picked up this recipe from an American cook of Italian ancestry.

Stuffed Mushroom and Ham Artichokes (Makes 4 servings)

4 artichokes, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1-3 cup chopped onions, 1 cup chopped mushrooms, ½ pound cooked ham, chopped, ¼ cup chopped parsley, 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour, ½ cup stock or bouillon, salt and pepper to taste, 2 tablespoons dry sherry (optional), 2 tablespoons salad or olive oil.

Wash artichokes, trim stems to 1-inch, pull off tough outer leaves and snip off tips of remaining leaves. Place artichokes upside down on a table or board and press firmly.

Remove center leaves and the choke. Place artichokes in 1 inch of boiling water. Sprinkle ¼ teaspoon salt over each artichoke. Cover tightly and cook until tender, from 25 to 65 minutes, depending upon the size of the artichokes.

Remove artichokes and turn upside down immediately to drain. Meanwhile, melt butter or margarine. Add onions and mushrooms and cook over low heat 5 minutes. Add ham and parsley and cook 5 minutes. Blend in flour.

Gradually add stock or bouillon and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add salt and pepper and sherry; mix well. Cool. Fill artichokes with ham mixture. Pour oil into 8-inch square pan. Arrange artichokes in pan. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 40 minutes.

Steamed artichokes served either hot or cold, are often a first course in California. To prepare, pull off tough outer leaves, trim stem, snip off tips of leaves.

Steam until tender, about 30 minutes. Then pull off outer leaves, dip fleshy end in butter.

Next, cut out fuzzy part (the choke) with fork, and eat the succulent heart, dipped in butter.

Salem Snows Under Rayen, 94-53, With Team Effort

All Quaker Starters Hit in Double Digits

Locals Dominate Backboards While Copping Seventh Straight Victory

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

Salem High basketball squads have had their outstanding stars in recent years, but this 1960-61 aggregation of Coach John Cabas probably has them all beat in one important department — team balance.

Sparked by a devastating scoring attack and an aggressive defensive performance by a team that worked together like a machine, the Quakers ground up the Youngstown Rayen Tigers, 94-53, before a large Tuesday night crowd at the Salem Senior High Gym.

The victory for Salem was its seventh in a row and leaves the Quakers with an 8-2 season record. Rayen, co-holders of the Youngstown City Series lead with Chaney, dropped its third tilt. The Tigers have won six.

RAYEN MANAGED to stay close to Salem only in the early stages of the first period. Rich Reynolds, 6-0 senior, got the Tigers off to a 1-0 lead with a foul shot but Salem's Bob Eskay pumped in a goal a few seconds later and the Quakers took a lead they never relinquished.

By the end of the period, every man in Salem's starting lineup had hit at least one goal, and the Quakers led, 20-11.

In the second canto the Tigers lost any hope they had of keeping the game close. Working the ball around beautifully, the Quakers ran their free ragged in the second quarter, outscoring them 33-14 and taking a big 53-25 lead at halftime.

By intermission Salem already had four men hitting in double figures and the other starter, 6-0 sophomore Bill Beery, was not far behind with eight points. Of the other four starters, 6-5 senior Don Davidson and 5-9 junior John Borrelli each had 12 points by halftime, 6-5 junior Ted Thorne had notched 11 and 5-10 junior Bob Eskay had popped in 10.

THE THIRD PERIOD was more of the same — all five starters continued to hit as the Tigers showed signs of tiring. Coach Cabas made his first substitute with 3:38 remaining in the third quarter when Gary Jeffries, 5-9 junior, replaced Borrelli. Salem held a 64-33 lead at the time.

Before the fourth quarter got underway, both Eskay and Thorne left the lineup, being replaced by 6-5 senior Ted Couche and 6-1 senior Duane McClaskey.

Beery left the fray after playing the first minute and a half of the fourth quarter. He was replaced by 5-10 junior Allen Ewing. The last Quaker starter to leave the game was Davidson who was replaced by 6-2 junior Jerry Wonnhas with 5:34 left in the fray.

The substitutes pulled down Salem's shooting percentage, hitting on only nine of 26 shots from the floor, but they still outscored their foes, 20-13, in the final period.

TAKING DOWN scoring honors for the game was Ted Thorne who racked up 19 points in three periods of play. The big senior was also tremendous on the boards, pulling down 15 rebounds. He hit seven of nine shots from the floor and posted a perfect five for five from the foul line.

Davidson was just one point off Thorne's pace with 18 markers. Eskay, Beery and Borrelli notched 13 apiece.

The rangy Salem cagers gave the Tigers a rough time on the backboards. Even after the subs took over for Salem, the Quakers still easily controlled the boards. Wonnhas grabbed off seven missed shots in the one quarter he played.

Duquesne Bows To Cincy, 65-53

Kent State Stopped By Bowling Green

By The Associated Press
Cincinnati continued proving it can win without the Big O. Dayton walked into a rebounding Detroit team and a raft of thrillers highlighted the Ohio basketball front Tuesday night.

The Queen City's Bearcats notched their 12th victory in 15 games, scrapping in every sense of the word—to a 64-53 conquest of Duquesne. Two of Cincinnati's standouts, Bob Wiesenmann and Paul Hogue, wound up the game on the bench. Wiesenmann was bounced for fighting with the Dukes' Clyde Arnold and Hogue left with five fouls.

Balanced Scoring
Arnold, Hogue and Cincy's Tom Thacker shared scoring honors, each getting 16 points.

Dayton made the mistake of being the first to venture onto Detroit's home court after the Titans had had their 24-game home winning streak broken. The Flyers, who now have a 9-4 mark, never saw the lead, losing 71-57. Hitting on only 24 per cent of its shots, Dayton was behind 34-22 at the half and from there the Titans coasted home. Charlie North scored 23 points for Detroit. Garry Roggenbuck had 15 for Dayton.

Elsewhere around the scene four games were decided by eight points.

Bee Gees Win Squeaker
Bowling Green's Pat Haley grabbed a loose ball with three seconds remaining, dropped in a basket from around the free throw line and gave the Bee Gees a 58-56 Mid-American Conference victory over Kent State.

A sophomore from Lima, Dick Cassie, sank a 27-foot set shot with seven seconds remaining in overtime to give Capital a 61-59 win over Oberlin in the Ohio Conference.

And Cedarville and Rio Grande saw substantial leads almost evaporate in the closing minutes but managed to hold on to victories—Cedarville 70-68 over Findlay in the Mid-Ohio loop and Rio 68-66 over Kentucky Christian.

In the other games Muskingum swamped Western Reserve 79-59 and Westminster (Pa.) dumped Baldwin-Wallace 73-59.

The top individual scoring effort of the night was Don Benadum's 32 points for Muskingum. The leading scorer in the Ohio Conference, Merrill Shanks of Oberlin, also fared well, tallying 21 in the loss to Capital.

HOUSTON CLUB SOLD; Majors Move In

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Houston Sports Association bought the American Association franchise here Tuesday night — clearing the biggest obstacle between Houston and major league baseball.

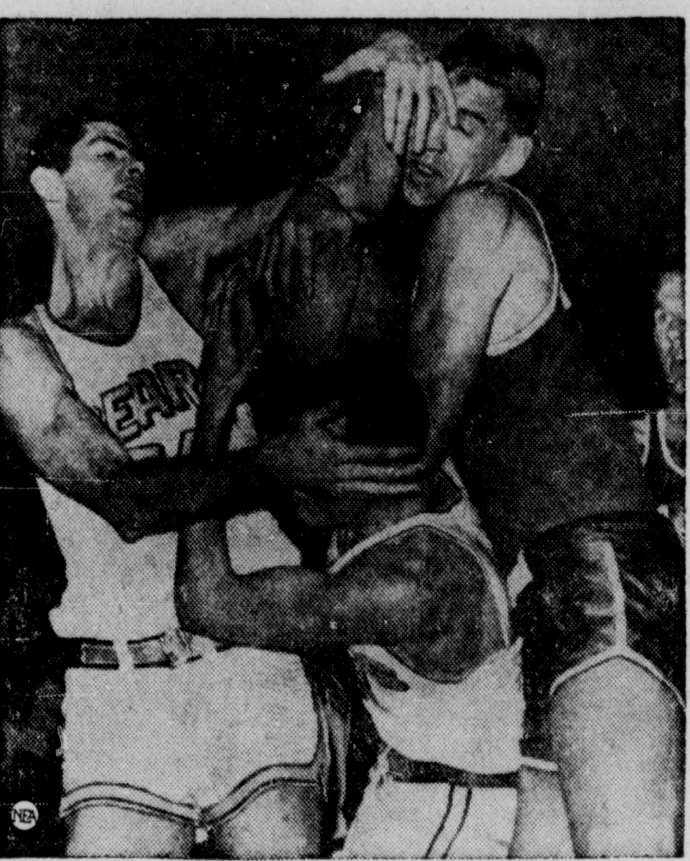

An official of HSA said a big factor in the purchase was an agreement between the Minneapolis-St. Paul entry in the American League and the American Association.

The official, who asked his name not be used, said the estimated $100,000 indemnity the Houston Buffs get from Minneapolis-St. Paul owner Calvin Griffith's payment to the league helped sway the Buffs into selling its franchise to the HSA.

The HSA holds a National League franchise for Houston in 1962.

Messenger Injures Ankle

F-W Trips Greenford, 51-38 for Ninth Win

Coach "Bing" Newton's Fairfield-Waterford Rebels chalked up their ninth win of the season in 10 starts as they turned back the Greenford Bobcats, 51-38, last night on the Bobcat floor.

Even though the Rebels captured a victory, the win might prove costly as their leading scorer, Tom Messenger, sprained his ankle in the second quarter after grabbing a rebound and never returned to action.

Messenger, going into the fray with 128 markers in nine tilts and scoring an average of 14.2 points per game, was taken to Salem City Hospital where he was X-rayed and released. Messenger had a rimmed two tallies before the mishap.

FAIRFIELD-WATERFORD took the lead in a low scoring first period, 9-8, but with Messenger out of the line-up, most of the second stanza, the Rebels were outscored by Greenford, 18-14, and fell behind, 26-23, at intermission.

The Rebels came back strong in the third canto and ripped the nets for 15 points while holding the Bobcats, who are now 3-6 on the season, to only five markers as they forged into a 38-31 margin which they never lost.

Greenford was very impotent as a scoring machine in the second half as it managed to rack up 12 points (seven in the final period) in the entire half while Fairfield-Waterford was cutting loose for 28 in the half (13 in the fourth period) to take the win handily, 51-38.

COACH JERRY SUESS'S Bobcats had a scare in the third quarter when high scoring Clyde Shoff came into contact with a Rebel player and sprained his ankle. However, Shoff was not hurt too seriously as he got back into the game.

Fairfield-Waterford had a hot night at the charity stripe as they pumped in 13 of 17 for a sizzling 76.4 per cent. Greenford was also on the beam from the free throw line as they caged eight of 12 for a good percentage of 66.6.

Clarence Kannel took high point honors for the Rebels as he meshed 21 markers.

Rich Arnold connected for 14 tallies to feature for the Bobcats.

Bill Elias Gets Virginia Job

Leaves Grid Post at George Washington

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Bill Elias takes over today as head football coach at the University of Virginia—without any idea of how long he'll last but with confidence he can lift the Cavaliers from the depths of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

"They say it just can't be done, the one-time Martins Ferry, Ohio, high school athlete said of the possibility of reforming the team that has lost its last 28 games.

"Like the idiot I am, he added 'I think I'll try it.'"

Thus, Elias, 36, brings to Virginia the same cockiness he took to George Washington a year ago. Without any visible means of improvement, he turned the Colonials 1-8 record of 1959 into a 5-5-1 slate for the 1960 season and was named Southern Conference coach of the year.

Neither Elias nor the university disclosed salary terms, though Elias said "the money factor had something to do with his decision to take the Virginia job. Both said his appointment is "without a terminal date."

Elias, a Maryland quarterback under three different coaches after World War II, got into coaching in 1948 at Richmond, Ind., High School. After coaching undefeated teams in 1951 and 1952, he became an assistant at Purdue. He left there last year to take the post at George Washington.

Salineville Edges Conotton Valley; Giannone Hits 28

Ron Giannone peppered the hoops for 28 points last night as he spearheaded a 58-54 triumph for the Salineville Indians over Conotton Valley on the Indian hardwoods.

Salineville, now 4-6 on the season, has captured its last two games.

Coach Dick Jones' Indian five found themselves trailing, 12-7, at the end of the initial eight minutes but they pulled in the loose ends in the second canto to outscore Conotton Valley, 21-11 and race to a five point intermission margin, 28-23.

In the third quarter the teams battled on even terms with the Conotton quintet shaving the Salineville lead one point, 47-43, as they drilled in 20 tallies while the Indian aggregation meshed 19. The final eight minutes was all even as both teams flipped in 11 markers and Salineville hung on for a four-point victory.

Going into Tuesday's fray, Giannone, a 5-8 senior sharpshooter who was the leading point-producer for the Salineville five, had 134 points in nine games for a 14.9 average. Salineville's second top scorer, Paul Kelley, rimmed the hoops for 15 points last night to increase his output to 140 tallies for 10 tilts.

Leading Conotton Valley in defeat was Tom Craig with five fielders and five fouls for 15 markers. He was followed by Jerry Ruppert with 12 points.

Conotton Valley salvaged the reserve game, 37-32.

Boaters Need Forms For 1961 Licenses

Ohio boaters who registered their craft or motors in 1960 should present their certificates when applying for 1961 ones at their local license agencies. This request comes from James Wells, administrator of the Division of Watercraft.

"Any change in information listed on last year's certificate should be called to the attention of the license agent so that the 1961 certificate will reflect the correct current information," says Wells.

The 1961 boat and motor certificate forms should be in the hands of local agents by March 1, according to Wells. Boaters who plan to use their craft before that date may apply for a temporary certificate to the Division of Watercraft, 1800 West Fifth Avenue, Columbus 12.

Warriors Win 8th Straight

West Branch Tops Portage, 60-53

Undefeated West Branch captured its eighth win in a row when they upended Portage Southeast, 60-53, last night on the West Branch hardwoods.

Tom Baxter with nine fielders and one free throw paced the Warriors attack with 19 tallies. He was followed by 6-2 Fred Brunner with seven fielders and four charity tosses for 18 markers.

Showing the way for Portage Southeast was Bill Forgacs with 17 points on six field goals and five foul shots.

Portage, now 5-5 on the season, jumped out to an early 6-0 lead in the first canto but the Warriors fought back into a 12-10 lead, solely on the scoring of 5-10 senior Baxter who canned five fielders on long set shots and one-handed corner 'ump shots and one free throw for a total of 11 tallies in the period.

However, Portage was not to be denied as it forged into a 13-12 first quarter margin on Bill Henig's 10 points in the initial eight minutes. Of the 25 total markers scored by both teams in the first period two cagers poured in 21.

AT THE OUTSET of the second stanza the Warriors raced to a 20-13 lead and never fell behind again. West Branch peppered the hoops for 23 points in the second eight minutes while holding Portage to only 11 as Coach Joe Tucker's West Branch moved into a 35-24 halftime lead. Dick Loudon accounted for eight markers in the period besides controlling both boards.

In the third canto the contest see-sawed back and forth with both teams trading baskets and each meshing 12 points but the Warriors still had a commanding lead, 47-36 going into the final eight minutes. Brunner flipped in six points for West Branch in the quarter.

The final period saw Portage come within three markers of the Warriors, 56-53, with two minutes remaining. However, two free throws each by 6-2 Tim Sanders and Brunner iced the game for the Warriors. West Branch was outscored, 17-13 by the visiting Southeast quintet in a rally that left short for Portage as it took less number five. Brunner tossed in five tallies for West Branch in the period.

TWO INTERESTING FACTS that were evident after the totals of the contest were recorded were that the game's high scorer, West Branch's Baxter, had accumulated all but two of his total of 19 points in the first half and that Brunner had racked up 11 of his 18 tallies in the second half.

In the rebounding department West Branch controlled both boards by grabbing 38 while Portage managed to haul down 28. Loudon snatched 14 for the Warriors while Forgacs also latched onto 14 rebounds for Southeast.

West Branch shot 41.3 per cent in field goal attempts, canning 26 of 63 and drilled in eight of 13 from the foul line for a percentage of 61.5. Portage was slightly less accurate from the floor hitting on 33.8 per cent of its shots, dropping in 23 of 63 tries. From the charity stripe the Southeast five connected on nine out of 11 for a nifty 81.8 per cent.

The West Branch Reserves downed the Portage JV's, 48-34, in the prelin.

West Branch's freshman aggregation took a 55-37 decision from Alliance State St. with Dan Hendricks pacing the Warriors with 19 points and Bob Miller and Bill Wade featuring with nine markers apiece for State St.

Boston College replaces Marquette which dropped intercollegiate football, and Detroit fills in for College of the Pacific, which gave up major football competition in favor of schools nearer its campus.

Notre Dame Knocks DePaul From Ranks of Unbeaten

Only Ohio State Remains on List Of Undefeated Major Colleges Irish Use Home Court Advantage To Halt Blue Demons' Streak at 12

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The home court advantage, important in basketball, has chopped DePaul's Blue Demons off the major undefeated list, leaving only Ohio State.

Notre Dame's Irish spilled DePaul's unbeaten string at 12 Tuesday night, 61-58.

John Tully was triggerman for the Irish, hitting two quick field goals as part of an 8-0 burst that shattered a 42-all tie with about 8 minutes remaining.

DePaul, ranked seventh in the new Associated Press poll, thus suffered the road-game pitfall that had struck Bradley, Louisville and Vanderbilt from the unbeaten ranks last week.

Ohio State's beat-'em Bucks won their last 17 games including 12 straight this year as they rumble toward defense of their NCAA championship.

Cincinnati (12-3) stretched its winning streak to seven, 64-53 over Duquesne; Detroit won its 10th in 15 tries, 71-57 over Dayton; Auburn (8-2) whipped Florida State 74-67; Memphis State (12-1) routed Louisiana College 96-39; and Western Kentucky fanned its Ohio Valley Conference lead, 88-75 over Tennessee Tech in other major games.

Little Howie Carl hit 16 points for DePaul, but Notre Dame had little trouble with sophomore M. C. Thompson, who scored 24 points when the Demons ended Louisville's 13-game streak last Saturday. Thompson scored only five points and hit just one field goal.

Virginia Military hit 33 of 38 free throw attempts for the difference in a 93-77 Southern Conference victory over George Washington. Neither will worry the league leaders. VMI has a 2-6 Conference mark and is 3-10 overall. G-W, now 2-3 in the league, lost its eighth in 11 games.

Archie Moore May Fight To Save Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Archie Moore can save his light heavyweight title in New York by boxing Erich Schoepner of Germany March 21 in Madison Square Garden.

The 175-pound king, stripped of his title by the National Boxing Association, was reported Tuesday night to have agreed to defend against the German challenger. Melvin Krulwich, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, said at the New York Boxing Writers dinner that Archie was ready to fight Schoepner.

Dave Off of Cleveland, president of the National Boxing Association, said it would recognize the winner of a Harold Johnson-Jesse Bowdry bout in Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 7 as the champion.

Wally Post Ninth Redleg to Sign for '61

CINCINNATI (AP) — Veteran outfielder Wally Post has signed for '61 with the Cincinnati Reds, the ninth on the team to do so.

General Manager Bill DeWitt reported the agreement Tuesday night.

Post, 31, was traded to Philadelphia in 1957 but returned to the Reds last summer. He batted .282 for the Reds with 19 homers and 50 RBI.

Lane Would Love to Have Tribes' Promising Rookies

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — When Frank Lane left Cleveland to become general manager of the Kansas City Athletics, he left behind four young Indians he would have loved to have taken along. Don't be surprised if the master trader tries to lure these kids away from the Tribe.

The four are southpaw Sam McDowell, 18, right-hander Frank Funk, 24, outfielder Ty Cline, 19, and first baseman Hal Jones, 22. McDowell is the 6-5 bonus boy Cleveland signed last summer and sent to Lakeland, Fla., where he won 6 of 11 decisions.

Funk was purchased from Toronto last September in time to make nine relief appearances with the Indians. He won four, lost two and posted a spectacular 1.97 earned run average.

Cline appears to be the best outfield prospect to come to the

Adding Chicago, Pittsburgh Gives NBA 10 Teams

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — The National Basketball Association, following the lead of big league baseball, has expanded to 10 teams with the addition of Chicago and Pittsburgh. But NBA President Maurice Podoloff is taking nothing for granted as far as the situation in Pittsburgh is concerned.

"I'm going to Pittsburgh on Monday to finalize all the details," said Podoloff today. "They told us they are in. Now, we want to see how ready they are to go."

The Pittsburgh entry is backed by John Harris, an ice show impresario. Harris is also the head of the Pittsburgh ice hockey club which returns to the American League next season.

"I can't see how Harris will be able to handle all these things," a leading NBA official told The Associated Press. "He has no organization set up yet and he'll have to move fast in so many directions." The official refused to be identified.

Wilson Edges Wellsville, 63-65 for 2nd

A so-so Youngstown Woodrow Wilson aggregation handed the Wellsville Bengals a 63-65 setback last night on the Youngstown court in the second meeting between the schools.

Wilson, now 2-7 on the season, was spanked 79-51 by the Wellsville quintet in the opening tilt for Wellsville. However, since their inaugural the Bengals have been a disappointing crew as they now sport a 4-4 record.

Wellsville jumped out to a 13-12 first period margin but in a high scoring second stanza the Wilson five drilled in 24 tallies while the Bengals pumped in 20 to grab a 36-33 lead at halftime.

The Presidents continued their hot pace in the third canto as they increased their lead to seven points, 54-47, going into the final eight minutes. Wellsville fought back in the fourth quarter as they hooped 16 tallies while Wilson tmeshed 11 but the big lead that the host Youngstown five had built could not be dented as the Bengal rally fell short.

The only bright spot in the Wellsville camp all year long has been the scoring of 6-3 senior Bob Kiggins who took high point honors last night for the Bengals with 20 markers.

Featuring for the Wilson five was Meliek and Temnick with 20 and 19 points, respectively.

Wilson made it a clean sweep by copping the JTV tilt, 53-42.

Tennessee State Continues to Lead Small College Fives

Tennessee State again fell just one point short of a perfect score today as it continued to hold first place in the weekly Associated Press small college basketball rankings.

Tennessee State was first on seven of eight ballots cast by an eight-man board representing each of the NCAA districts and was second to Hofstra on the other. The voting followed last week's pattern in that respect, but Hofstra edged closer with higher ratings on a few other ballots and trailed by only 15 points in the overall tabulation, 79-67.

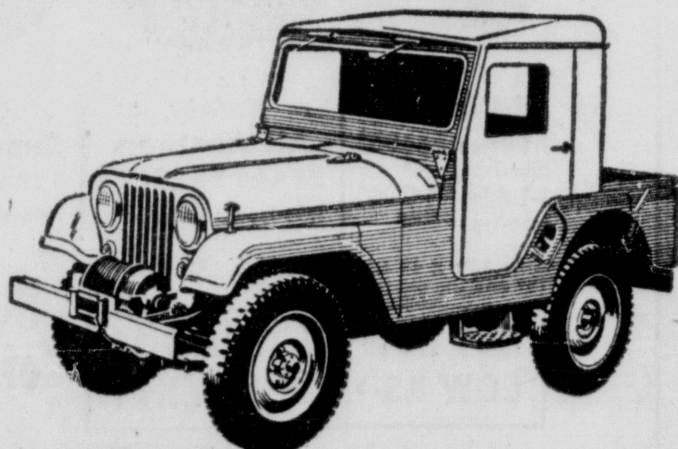

Points are given on the basis of 10 for each first place vote, nine for second and so on down to one for a tenth place vote.

Southern Illinois edged ahead of Mississippi Southern by one point, 42-41, for third place.

The leaders, with won lost records through Jan. 16 and first place votes in parentheses:

1. Tennessee State (7) (14-1) 79
2. Hofstra (1) (12-1) 67
3. Southern Illinois (11-3) 42
4. Mississippi Southern (11-1) 41
5. Prairie View (15-0) 40
6. Grambling (17-3) 28
7. Kentucky Wesleyan (8-4) 25
8. Westminster (Pa) (10-2) 20
9. American U. (9-2) 17
10. Southwest Texas (11-2) 11

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

For the first time in over a hundred years, beavers become legal quarry in Ohio.

Although the season is short, ending Jan. 21, it sort of turns back the pages of history and today's youngsters get to carry on a tradition experienced by their great grandfathers.

Future trapping regulations depend upon how fast they multiply, how they spread out over the state and how many can be taken without them becoming extinct again.

If more attention had been paid to beavers a hundred years ago and adequate laws would have been in effect with an Ohio Division of Wildlife and an enforcement crew of officers giving them protection, they would have never become extirpated in the first place. True to life, we learn by experience.

Th game protectors in each county, Mahoning, Ashtabula, and Columbiana, have seals ready to be applied to the pelts as soon as they are brought in, thus making the pelts legal. All pelts taken must be sealed in the county in which they were taken.

I HAVE ESTABLISHED my own hours when you may bring the Columbiana County pelts, or carcass, to me to be sealed. I plan to be home each evening from 5 to 6 p.m. until Jan. 24, Sunday excluded.

Pelts may not be bought or sold until the seal is attached to each pelt. I live at Westville Lake on Lake Point Drive, the only road south of the lake. Otherwise I will tag seal pelts any place you run across me as I will have the seals in my car.

If possible, weigh the animal. I have a questionnaire to fill out for each beaver taken. These records will be forwarded to the district office when the season is over where they will be placed on file.

TOO BAD, some half-baked potato had to shoot the mute swan that sought refuge on the Ohio River at East Liverpool. The culprit that wounded this most beautiful bird should be forced to eat it.

I'll guarantee you the first mouthfull of roasted swan would give this individual enough swan for the rest of his life.

Big O Leads West's Upset Cage Victory

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Oscar Robertson neatly summed up in four little words today the West's record-breaking victory over the East in the National Basketball Association all-star game.

"We beat 'em good," said Cincinnati's "Big O", voted the most valuable player in Tuesday night's dream game in the War Memorial Auditorium. The West, a 6-point underdog, won 153-131.

Robertson scored 23 points and had a record 14 assists. Bob Pettit and Clyde Lovellette, both of St. Louis, and Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles, also starred for the winners.

All four pitched in during a furious assault that carried the Westerners to a 47-19 lead at the first-quarter mark. The closest the East came after that was 14 points, 131-117, midway in the fourth quarter.

The usual high-scoring Wilt Chamberlain and Bob Cousy were held far below their average. Philadelphia's Chamberlain had only 12 points. Cousy, the veteran Boston forward, had only four.

John (Whack) Hyder is in his tenth season as basketball coach at Georgia Tech.

Art Wall Defends Title

Low Scores Predicted For Crosby Tourney

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Tommy Aaron, Gainesville, Ga., —Art Wall captured the 1959 Crosby Golf Tournament in near perfect weather and the same conditions could exist this week for the $50,000 event.

"You'll see some low scores if this weather keeps up," Wall said after a practice round over the Monterey Peninsula Country Club course. "The weather makes quite a difference here."

Although he didn't keep formal score, Wall said he was a few strokes under par for 18 holes.

Ken Venturi of San Francisco battled rain and blustering winds on his final 18 holes last year and won the 72-hole tournament with a score of 286. Wall won the year before with 279.

Art Doering, the veteran from Pittsburgh, paced qualifiers Tuesday who battled for the last 18 places in the field of 150 pros and 150 amateurs who start the tournament Thursday. Doering fired a 3-under-par 69 on the Pebble Beach course.

The pros pair with the amateurs for tournament play with two divisions—the pro-amateur and the pro individuals.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: We bought a $35,000 home last June. In October some animal lovers moved into the place next. They bought it for $40,000 and they've just about turned this neighborhood into a barnyard. These people have two dogs, three cats, bees, rabbits (eight last week, probably 12 by now), a herd of chinchilla, a rooster and three pigs. We can take the dogs and cats and even the bees. The chinchillas are in a heated garage so they don't bother us, but that rooster and those pigs really do cheapen the neighborhood.

The pigs were cute when they were new-born but now they are just plain pigs. Usually they are penned up but they get out once in awhile and wander around our property.

The rooster is the biggest nuisance of all. He crows at dawn and wakes up our entire household. We like the people and don't want to make trouble for them but it seems to me we should not have to put up with this just because we are good natured. What do you suggest: — PEACE LOVERS.

Dear Peace Lovers: It's nice that your neighbors love animals but they should have a little love for their fellow man as well. Contact your local zoning commission. It may be that your neighbors are breaking the law. If they are within their legal rights you are justified in complaining about the trespassing pigs and the rooster who is disturbing the peace.

Cause for Pause

Dear Ann: My girl is never ready on time when I pick her up for a date. Sometimes I have waited as long as 40 minutes for her. She's 19 and old enough to organize her life a little better.

It's very embarrassing when I go to pick her up because her mother and father don't speak English very well and they just sit there and look at me. I try to make simple conversation but they just hunch up their shoulders to let me know they don't understand.

My girl's younger sister is a real pest and she makes me uncomfortable by asking personal questions.

Please don't advise me to break up with her because she's very lovely and this is her only bad fault. Just help me find a solution. —SHINY TROUSERS.

Dear Shiny Trousers: Tell your girl that from now on you will give her 10 minutes to appear on the scene. If she isn't ready, send word with the pest that you'll be back in half an hour. Then leave and return in 30 minutes.

Noose-Loose

Dear Ann: I've cried so much over this problem the tears would sink a battleship. Please help me. I went with this bachelor for five years. We talked of marriage and I was positive he was serious about me. My folks even treated him like a member of the family.

Last week he told me he wasn't good enough for me and I'd better find another fellow who would be a good husband — the kind I deserve.

I've told him that I'm perfectly willing to take him with all his faults because I'm not perfect either. He says "No — you deserve better." Please, Ann, tell me what to do. — CLARA.

Dear Clara: A bachelor who would take five years of a girl's time and then tell her he isn't good enough for her is probably right. He isn't. Forget him and learn from this bitter experience.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Kennedy May Avoid Foreign Commitments Until Spring

WASHINGTON (AP) — The incoming Kennedy administration needs a foreign policy breathing spell of several months after inauguration to get its policies in shape for major negotiations with the Soviet Union.

Well-informed diplomats believe President-elect John F. Kennedy and his secretary of state-designate, Dean Rusk, will seek to avoid any important new foreign commitments or proposals until next spring or summer.

Meantime Kennedy and Rusk will have to deal with crises as they arise. The most urgent of these at present is the civil war in Laos where both the United States and the Soviet Union are involved through aid to the contending factions.

The breathing spell, as the diplomats see it, will be a period of intensive policy review in Washington and probably top-level Allied consultation. There is some speculation that after a period of months Kennedy might be interested in arranging a completely informal, brief, talk with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Certainly, it is believed here, Kennedy would want to meet with Allied leaders briefly and informally before any get-together with Khrushchev. There also is speculation that perhaps in the spring he would undertake a flying visit to Europe to see such men as British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, French President Charles de Gaulle and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany.

Kennedy has been in frequent touch with Rusk, whose headquarters are in the State Department. Their conferences are understood to have been primarily concerned with developments in Laos, Cuba, and other trouble spots and with the selection of chief officials for the State Department.

One early move which the experts consider probable is the recall from Moscow of Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson for consultation. Kennedy is sure to be under steady pressure from Khrushchev to say whether he would eventually be willing to have a summit conference.

Lessons on Tailoring Being Held In County

LISBON — Approximately twenty women representing most adult home economics extension groups in the county have started a series of lessons on tailoring, according to Miss Julia A. Shank, county extension agent in home economics.

During the seven lessons, the class members will go through the entire tailoring process starting with equipment needed for tailoring and finishing with a style show of their finished coat or suit at the annual achievement day in April.

The class meets at the county extension offices in Lisbon. The first session was held Jan. 13, at which time equipment needed and patterns and fabrics were selected and discussed.

The next meeting will be Friday, Feb. 7, when members are to have a trial jacket completed.

The lessons are being taught by Miss Shank and are part of the educational service of the Agriculture Extension Service.

SECURITIES RETURNED

CLEVELAND (AP) — A purse containing $23,000 in checks and securities stolen last Thursday from Mrs. Karl W. Winzer of suburban Rocky River was returned to her Tuesday, but $200 in cash was missing. The purse was stolen as Mrs. Winzer was trying on a dress at a downtown store. Police said the purse was found under a bed in the furniture department of another store.

BUS EXECUTIVE DIES

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Lou J. Fageol, 54, former president and board chairman of the Twin Coach Bus Co. here died Monday in San Diego, Calif., it was learned. Fageol, a former resident of nearby Silver Lake, was internationally known as an automotive engineer and one-time speedboat driver.

Fageol also entered sports cars he designed in races all over the world.

Kennedy Flies to New York For Round of Conferences

NEW YORK (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy ducked away from the pre-inaugural hubbub in Washington for a round of Manhattan conferences today—and a session with his tailor.

Kennedy arranged a late morning meeting with Puerto Rico Governor Luis Munoz Marin. He may confer during the afternoon with Hugh Gaitskill, leader of Britain's Labor party. Aides indicated he will receive other callers at his Carlyle Hotel suite.

Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, said tailor Sam Harris plans to visit the suite sometime during the day for a final fitting of the striped trousers and cutaway coat the president-elect will wear at his inauguration in Washington Friday noon.

Meeting Sought In Harbor Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Harold A. Felix, New York City labor commissioner, took emergency action today to settle the harbor craft strike that has caused a vast railroad commuter tieup and halted service on the New York Central's main line between here and Albany.

Felix sought to set up a top-level meeting of both sides in the strike, Mayor Robert F. Wagner and representatives of the National Mediation Board.

Picketing by striking railroad harbor craft crewmen led to cancellation of service for the New York Central's 40,000 commuters in the metropolitan area Tuesday.

Thousands of long-distance passengers were forced to use buses between New York City and Albany because of the stoppage of Central trains into and out of Grand Central Terminal.

The nine-day-old strike of 664 marine crewmen against 11 railroads operating in the harbor has hit hardest at 70,000 commuters. In addition to the 40,000 New York Central commuters who felt the impact Tuesday, 30,000 commuters between New Jersey points and Manhattan have borne the brunt of the strike.

Columbiana Council Pay To Be Increased

COLUMBIANA — The rate of pay for village councilmen, effective with the start of the new term of office in 1962, will be doubled to a rate of $10 a meeting as a result of action taken by Council at its meeting Tuesday night.

Adopted as an emergency measure to meet the Feb. 1 deadline on reporting salaries for elective offices, the pay ordinance calls for a rate of $10 a meeting with a maximum of $300 a year.

The present rate, in effect since 1945, is $5 a meeting with a maximum of $120 annually. The new scale allows payment for at least some of the special Council meetings called during the year in addition to the 24 regularly scheduled sessions.

In another action, Council confirmed Mayor E. L. Calvin's recommendation of the reappointment of R. Don Hisey as village street commissioner. The appointment is made annually. Hisey last year filled out the unexpired term of the late Carl C. Spratt.

Prior to the reappointment, Council adopted an ordinance setting the pay rate for the street commissioner at $450 a month, the same as other department heads in the village.

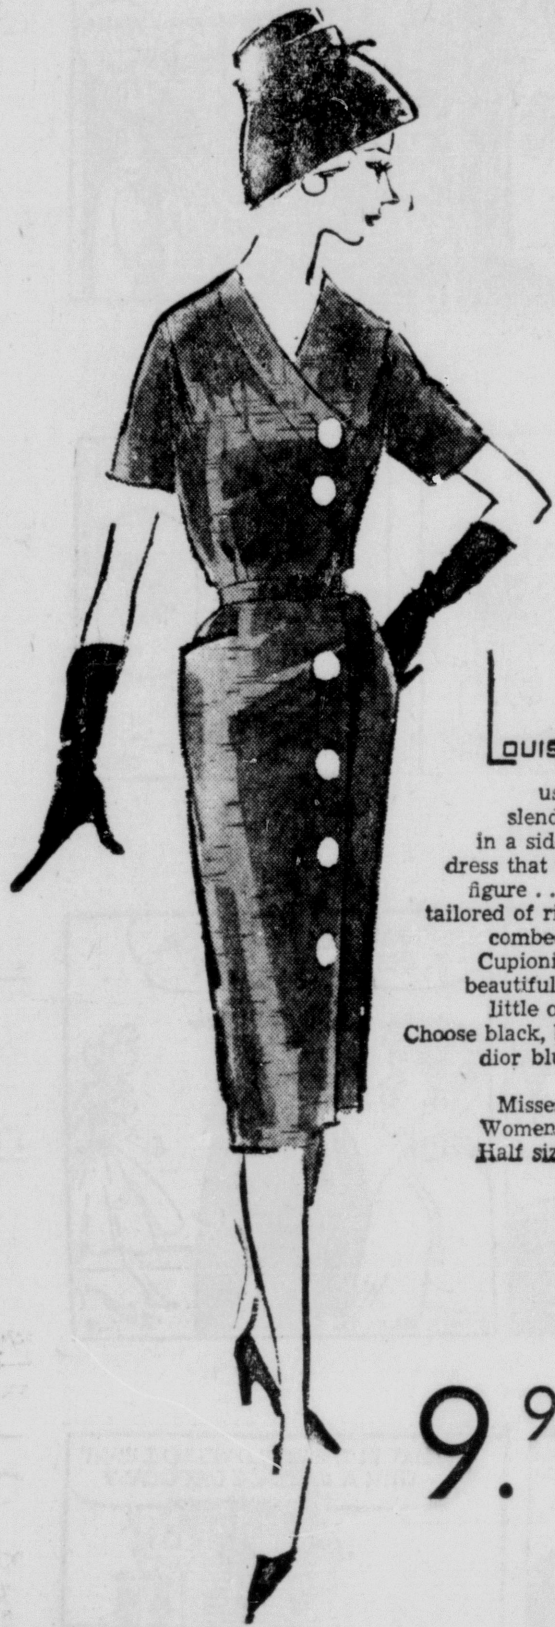

The salary of an appointed official cannot be changed during his term of office, so Hisey was skipped when a village-wide pay raise went into effect last September. He also will receive a supplement of $87.50 on his next pay to make up the difference in the salaries which existed since last fall when all department heads were boosted by $25 a month.

Council also passed an ordinance formally appointing Richard Rhodes as the third patrolman in the village police department. He had been serving as probationary patrolman since his temporary appointment a year ago.

Cleveland Police Hunt Man In Slaying of Wife, Lover

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police sought a husky, brown-haired attorney today for questioning in the shotgun deaths of his wife and a man who was a member of a prominent Cleveland law firm. Love letters found at the scene linked the two victims, detectives reported.

The body of Mrs. Nancy Shepherd Ladutko, 29, was found Tuesday night in an apartment in the University Circle area on Cleveland's East Side. A 16-gauge shotgun lay across her body.

A trail of blood led from the apartment to a station wagon outside, where the body of Charles D. Johnson, 42, was found slumped over the wheel. Johnson, a partner in the firm of Baker, Hostetter & Patterson, apparently lost consciousness as he tried to drive away.

Mrs. Ladutko, a granddaughter of the late William L. Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, had passed her bar examinations and was a librarian with Johnson's firm.

Detectives found on Johnson and in his briefcase letters he and Mrs. Ladutko apparently had exchanged. One letter from Mrs. Ladutko said, "All I want to be is a woman with you and definitely not a lawyer," detectives reported.

Mrs. Ladutko left her husband two weeks ago and had filed for divorce.

She and her husband, John Max Ladutko Jr., 32, had lived for four years in a Bohemian-style apartment in what once was the garage of a big estate. Relatives said she had gone to the apartment to get some belongings and was to meet her attorney there.

Detectives said the landlord, Sorrel Dubin, told them Ladutko telephoned him at his office and said: "I caught my wife and her boy friend together and shot them both. Now I'm heading west."

Apparently there was a struggle, detectives said, noting that the stock of the shotgun was broken.

The 6-foot-2, 200-pound Ladutko and his wife had met at Cleveland-Marshall Law School, and both were graduated from the night school in 1957. Before that, Ladutko had studied for a degree in business administration at Ohio University. His father lives at Struthers.

DIES IN ROAD MISHAP

NORWALK, Ohio (AP)—A Greyhound Bus Lines mechanic was injured fatally Tuesday when struck by an auto carrier as he was checking a stalled bus' motor on the Ohio Turnpike. He was Steven J. Molnar, 26, of Cleveland.

The accident occurred about 10 miles east of the Norwalk - Sandusky interchange. The Detroit-bound bus had broken down and the passengers had boarded another bus. Molnar was standing near an opened side panel when he was hit.

WITHHOLD COMMUTATION

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has withheld commutation from James Rutherford, 44, serving a life sentence for the 1935 murder of a Cleveland gasoline station attendant. DiSalle said Tuesday, "We do not feel the inmate has demonstrated an ability to now take his place in society. Rutherford was convicted in the slaying of William Shellers."

Lumumba Moved To Katanga, Beaten

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The Katanga government today confirmed that deposed Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba is now imprisoned in Katanga. He was brought here, a communiqué said, at the request of President Joseph Kasavubu of the Congo.

Officials of the Belgian air line, Sabena, had reported earlier that Lumumba was flown to Elisabethville Tuesday under close guard and in handcuffs. He had been held previously at the military camp of Thysville, 80 miles southwest of Leopoldville, the Congo capital.

Elisabethville is the capital of one of Lumumba's arch enemies, Provincial President Moïse Tshombe, who defied Lumumba's authority as premier and declared his province independent of the Leopoldville government.

Swedish U.N. troops on guard at Elisabethville airport when Lumumba arrived said he and two other prisoners with him got "a terrific beating" from Katanga police at the airport. The other two prisoners were the youth minister in Lumumba's Cabinet, Maurice Mpolo, and the vice president of the Congo Senate, Joseph Okito.

"I had to turn away," said an airport official, "It was too much for me to watch."

Lumumba and his companions reportedly groaned while the assault was taking place but did not protest or ask for mercy. The ex-premier was reported severely bruised.
